Billable Hours

Duration: 26 x 30 mins
Producer: Temple Street Productions
Broadcaster: Showcase (Canada)

An irreverent and modern sitcom following the impetuous office lives of three corporate lawyers who are supposedly best friends...

Sam Caponelli (Fabrizio Filippo - Lives of the Saints), Robin Howland (Jennifer Baxter - Land of the Dead) and Clark Claxton III (Brandon Firla - Band of Brothers) work for Bay Street law firm Fagen and Harrison. Sam's attempts to be liked inevitably always backfire spectacularly; Robin spends all her energy hiding her trailer-park past by being perfect; and Clark is ravaged by too much privilege and can't feel anything at all. Their ideas of themselves unravel hilariously in each episode as the three friends provide each other with distraction from endless hours of inane corporate law, and the viewer with endless hours of fun.

The Cloth

Duration: 6 x 3 mins
Producer: HaHaBonk
Broadcaster: Channel 4 (UK)

This hard hitting adult animated comedy sees fervent gun wielding priests fighting corruption within the Catholic Church.

Kochanski and Peretti, Starsky and Hutch-style gun-toting priests, do battle with corrupt clergymen, evil spirits and, toughest of all, their own personal demons. Join them as they bring their own special brand of justice to the streets. The Cloth is written and performed by The Hollow Men, one of the hottest young comedy teams on the UK circuit, and contains violence, strong language and iconoclasm.

Corner Gas

Duration: 107 x 30 mins
Producer: 335 Productions / Verité Films
Broadcaster: CTV (Canada)

A quirky comedy about seemingly ordinary people who just happen to get into hilarious predicaments.

40 kilometres from nowhere and way beyond normal... in Dog River, Saskatchewan in Canada, life revolves around the gas station, the convenience store and the Ruby café. It's a little town with a definite edge where not much happens, and people like it that way. But invariably, when things do change, all hell breaks loose. Corner Gas has been a huge ratings success and was nominated for an Emmy. The final episode also became the highest rated scripted show in Canadian television history.

Producer: Kudos Film & Television in association with Red Planet Pictures
Broadcaster: ITV1 (UK)

Moving Wallpaper tells the story of a hapless and irrepressible producer who drives his hard working production team to distraction.

Jonathan Pope (Ben Miller - Armstrong and Miller, Primeval), has, in series one, been left in charge of the flagship soap opera Echo Beach. With a series of crazy ideas, and a fierce belief that he is the best television producer ever to walk the planet, Jonathan drives his production team to distraction. With ITV commissioner Nancy deciding to axe Echo Beach at the end of the first series, series two sees the team turn their attention to creating a zombie drama called Renaissance starring Kelly Brook (Smallville) and Alan Dale (Ugly Betty, The O.C.). Can the production team once again cope with the overbearing producer? Is the world ready for another Jonathan Pope production? The stellar cast also includes Lucy Liemann (The IT Crowd), Sarah Hadland (Saxondale), James Lance (Teachers) and Dave Lamb (The Smoking Room).
